

I do not want to see the Wisconsin no call list weakened. I have never bought nor will I ever buy anything from a telemarketer. If a company wants my business then they can send me information in the mail so that I have all the details in black in white and then I will initiate the contact.

Before the no call list I was deluged with calls I did not want and people on the other line that were rude and aggressive.

I am very thankful for our no call list in Wisconsin.
